The Mayor's Committee of Women on National Defence issued an appeal questerday for money to buy milk for hungry children. "Three thousand children are suffering for want of milk," according to a statement issued by the committee, which can provide a child with milk for a month for $2.54. "Twenty-one per cent of the population of this city is underfed," the statement continues, "the growing cost of food having created the greatest hardship on the purses of those whose wages have remained stationary."

Gifts may be sent to the committee in the Times Building or to Alfred J. Johnson, City Chamberlain, treasurer of the committee.
